Regulatory Information

SMART ENERGY PROVIDER LLC is a financial technology company that operates the Smart Energy Pays platform in the United States. Smart Energy Pay is not a bank and does not accept deposits or provide FDIC insurance.

The Smart Energy Pays Visa® Card is issued by a licensed bank (the "Issuer") pursuant to a license from Visa U.S.A. Inc. The Issuer is identified in the Card Terms and on the back of your Card. U.S. dollar account details and conversions between U.S. dollars and supported stablecoins are provided by our licensed third-party providers and their bank partners under the Virtual Account Terms.

Where U.S. dollar funds are held at an FDIC-insured bank partner, they may be eligible for pass-through FDIC insurance, subject to FDIC rules. FDIC insurance protects only against the failure of the insured bank. It does not protect against the failure of Smart Energy Pay or any other non-bank company, and it does not cover digital assets.

DIGITAL ASSETS, INCLUDING STABLECOINS, ARE NOT LEGAL TENDER, ARE NOT BANK DEPOSITS, ARE NOT INSURED BY THE FDIC OR SIPC, AND MAY LOSE VALUE.

SMART ENERGY PROVIDER LLC maintains an anti-money laundering and sanctions compliance program under the Bank Secrecy Act and U.S. sanctions laws. Services are available only to eligible U.S. residents and are not available in every U.S. state or territory. Smart Energy Pays services outside the United States are provided by affiliated companies under separate terms and are not offered through this website.
